Miners to be Smoked Out of the Coal Creek Mines

Special to the APPEAL

Clumsy Robbers.

Wichita, Kan., August 22.—The eastbound St. Louis & San Francisco train was robbed by four masked men on Saturday night near Augusta. The men secured $5000, but were arrested soon afterward by the Sheriff, who had been informed that the robbery was to take place. The robbers were four farmers living in the neighborhood.

Hale &amp; Norcross.

San Francisco, Aug. 23.—Tomorrow Judge Hebbard will hear statement on motion for a new trial in the case of M. W. Fox vs. Hale & Norcross mining company et al.

Will End in Smoke.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 23.—A report has been received from Coal Creek that General Carnes will try to smoke out the miners, who are believed to be concealed in the mines.

The Tigress.

Stella Barrotti, the leading character in The Tigress, is assumed by Miss Hollis, (formerly of Daly's Co.) the California Beauty, whose talent is certainly on a par with her personal charms. The play rendered last night was, in technique, one of the most thorough ever produced in the Carson Opera House, and Miss Hollis entered into the several disposition of Stella Barrotti, the versatile Frenchwoman, with such an interesting energy that the audience was carried away with the charm of her delivery.

Count Raphael Beaudry, the gentleman whom Stella is trying to stick for the sparks, is a little too smooth to be gathered in; which role is handled by Orme Caldara, whose method of holding the audience is so natural and effervescent that it bubbles over and diffuses itself even into the heart of the critic. He is an extremely handsome man on the stage as well as on the street (rather a rare combination), and has a ready tongue to guide himself through all.

Lord Noddy, Mr. V. M. DeSilke, the eccentric English comedian, scored a hit with his lazy drawl and inexhaustible fund of misinformation.

Miss Emma Cole as the associate of His Excellency, the Lord, is a comedienne of considerable merit.

W. J. Lake, representing the Review of Reviews, one of the best monthly magazines in America, paid the APPEAL office a visit yesterday and dropped a sample copy.

Gilbert Briggs says soldiers are great feeders, and leave no evidences to mark the scene of destruction.

A. Livingston now practically controls the wholesale liquor trade of the city. He is continually adding to his stock and sells only standard brands. He is also introducing some excellent California wines to the people of Carson, as well as foreign and domestic cigars of the finest quality. Drop in and inspect his stock.

Benton's Liniment.

Which has been used in Carson for over twenty-five years, has saved many an ache and pain to those who know it. It is really intended for horses but works with the same magical effect on the human. It is a powerful remedy and for rheumatism is the king of the world. Aches knocked out in short order. No horseman should be without a bottle.

Benton's Liniment for sale at all drug stores.

For rent, 5 rooms, at the residence of Mr. T. W. Taylor, near R. R. rack, furnished or unfurnished.

Appearance of the Camp at the Sound of Reveille.

When the sunrise gun belches out its roar across the grass, to strike the ears of tired soldiers, they yawn, turn over and awaken from their dreams, knowing that in a few minutes the music of the reveille will call them to the field.

Presently a tent flap is wafted aside and a sleepy soldier walks into the open.

His clothes are loosely thrown over him and he shivers in the cold morning air heavily laden with the precious dew.

He stands gazing wisely towards town and the longing look in his dreamy eyes almost moves one to tears.

Before he has suffered long some coarse buffon reaches out behind him and throws a cup of ice water down his neck.

This turns loose the whole camp and they pour out of their tents like warf rats driven from their nests.

The slip shod easy going boys climb into their pants and dress hurriedly with no regard for the right or left, but the Beau Brummell of civilian days is undergoing a mental trouble through the absence of orthodox toilet articles.

He steps lightly in his stocking feet on the damp grass and feels around in his pockets for a collar button.

There is no rest for him. He must wash in cold water and comb his hair with his fingers.

There is not a dressing case in the bureau and not a single rocking chair in sight.

When breakfast is over it commences to get hot and under his brass buttons and fancy regalia he feels his under shirt sticking to his alabaster skin as he walks up and down the picket line or does the "Drill ye Tarnies Drill" act.

His best girl looks at him with the light of joy in her liquid eyes, and knows not of his suffering.

Occasionally a light breeze springs up and cools his massive brow as the zephyrs cackle through his lilacs.

Suddenly the Captain yells "present, unimp!" and the soldier has the St. Vit's dance trying to brace up and look neat.

All day long he feels the discipline, and when night comes he throws his weary form down on the straw mattress, and lo, and behold, from the next tent comes the sound of revelry by night, frequently punctuated with snatches from "Annie Rooney" and "Ta Ra Ra Boom-de-day."

George Lammon juggles his banjo and Dave Ryan quotes stock down the entire line of tents.

Frank Bryant and George Cowing sing "When the Battle's Over, Mary," and "Our Working Pants are Vacant Now," in a damnable minor key.

From the Tuscarora camp the strong voice of Joe Plunkett is heard reciting "We'll All be Happy Yet."

At 10 o'clock all is still, but the full grown mosquito glides into the tent and jabs his probe half an inch into the flesh.

Something happens all night long, and at dawn the same acrobatic feats of lightning contortion are gone through with from start to finish.

But what's the difference, boys! We all like you, and if you'll only think of the sweet glory, the great fame and satisfaction in store for you all will be well.

Getting in Trim.

Brady is hitting the bag, riding his bicycle and eating angel's food to prepare for the cyclone he proposes to turn loose in the neighborhood of Meyers' mug on Sept. 2nd.

A pound of fat a day is being dispensed with, and when the scrap comes off Meyers will wish he had taken lessons in footracing instead of boxing. Many tickets are being sold in Carson, and a heavy delegation will go up from here.

Special Race.

The Reno Handicap, for all ages; one and one-eighth miles; $100 entrance, $25 forfeit, with $1,200 added. Weights posted at 10 o'clock A. M. Monday, September 19th, declarations to be made through the entry box at 6 o'clock P. M. same day. Second horse to receive $250, third horse to save entrance. Entries to close September 5th.

A Very Mean Report.

Some unscrupulous rascal has for some unknown reason started the report that Carson girls hang around the encampment to chew pickets.

C. V. Salix, the drum major of the Battery A band, carries his baton with a grace sufficient to put a delirious man to sleep.

Carr, the porter and barber for the Tuscarora boys, and also the society reporter of the Times-Review, is wearing one of the original Weaver badges, worn the first time Weaver was a candidate for President.

The boys who gave the rooster calls at night must remember that there are no old hens on the fence.

Dave Ryan, of B, has his weather eye on Dr. Boyes, who spends too much time looking at the ladies. Although the latter is one of the Boyes' Ryan says it now reverts to a question of shape, not youth.

The first officer to report to Col. Lord yesterday morning was Capt. Riley of the Tuscarora Guards.

Virginia sent down three companies—160 men in all—a pretty good showing.

The Russian plan of preparing the tents of the privates before those of the officers, adopted by Col. Lord, is a good one, although not generally adopted throughout the United States.

During the afternoon yesterday an electric lamp was placed in position in the center of the grounds and when night came it threw out its glare over the camp and pierced the night like a huge eye watching the sleepers beneath.

The tents were softened into long shadows changing and rechanging as they rose and fell in the breeze.

"Tahoe Tips."

Governor H. H. Markham, Private Secretary M. R. Higgins Judge W. C. Van Fleet, Col. J. B. Wright and Capt. Chas. Ault, are visiting at Tallac, and will return by carriage via Georgetown.

Lee Chamberlin of Auburn spent several days at the Grand Central. A. R. Robinson an Attorney of Auburn is also there. Both gentlemen are running for District Attorney of Placer Co.

Miss Mamie Moore, of Virginia, and Miss Shelby of Reno are stopping at Emerald Bay.

Mr. Whitney and family of Rocklin came to-day and will hold forth at Rubicon Park until weather is cooler below.

Frank M. Simpkins Dead.

Franklin M. Simpkins, long known as Frank the Warm Springs stage driver, passed away at 7:30 o'clock Monday night at Shaw's Springs after a brief illness. Deceased was a native of West Jefferson, Ohio, and was 52 years of age at the time of his death. Frank was second Lieutenant of the 40th Ohio regiment, in which he served from 1850 to 1863. He had lived in Carson City for some fourteen years, eight of which he was in the employ of Mr. Shaw, of the Warm Springs.

He was well known on the wagon and blew his bugle morning and night, tendering to passengers all the information possible.

He will be buried under the Episcopal Church at 2 P. M. A detail of officers from the encampment will act as pall bearers.

Friday Night's Dance.

The young Ladies Institute hop billed for Thursday night has been changed to Friday for the purpose of making it convenient for the Militia men who will secure leave of absence on that occasion. Tickets hold good.

Ladies who will do writing for me at these homes will make good wages. Apply with self-addressed stamp envelopes. Miss Mildred, Miller, South Bend, Ind.

Will Davis, the druggist, came in yesterday.

Pasturage.

On the Duffy and Kirman ranches which contain over 700 acres, being the largest body of pasture land in Ormsby county. As the waters from Clear Creek, Hume, Ash Canyon and Lake View flow through the property it is the best watered. From the extended range it is eminently fitted for stock cattle and horses. Two bulls, a Holstein and a Jersey, are kept for the service of stock. A limited number of milch cows will be driven from and returned to the city daily. Season commences April 15th. Terms reasonable.
